ABOUT ME

Hi, I'm Rohit Dogra, a passionate MERN Stack Developer with expertise in HTML, Javascript and React.js. I specialize in creating dynamic, user-friendly, and high-performance web applications, focusing on responsive design, clean code, and efficient backend architectures to deliver exceptional user experiences.

EXPERIENCE

United Descaler   April - June 2025

Sampling Coordinator

At United Descaler, I was responsible for overseeing the end-to-end process of product sampling, from managing inventory to ensuring timely distribution for marketing and sales campaigns. I collaborated closely with production, marketing, and sales teams to fulfill sample requests, organized promotional events to showcase products, and maintained accurate records of dispatches and customer feedback. By tracking responses and providing actionable insights, I contributed to improving product outreach and enhancing brand presence in the market.
